

SCOTT T. MICEK, PHARM.D, FCCP, BCPS

Dr. Scott Micek is a Clinical Pharmacist in Medicine Critical Care at Barnes-Jewish Hospital/Washington University Medical Center in St. Louis, Missouri. Additionally, he is an Adjunct Clinical Associate Professor at St. Louis College of Pharmacy. Previously, he served as the Director of Clinical Care Specialty and Program Director for the Pharmacy Practice Residency. He is a Board Certified Pharmacotherapy Specialist.

Dr. Micek earned his Doctor of Pharmacy degree at the University of Iowa, followed by a pharmacy practice residency at Barnes-Jewish Hospital/Washington University Medical Center.

Dr. Micek has authored several book chapters and has published in many journals, including Chest, Critical Care Medicine, Antimicrobial Agents and Chemotherapy, Infection Control and Hospital Epidemiology, and Archives of Internal Medicine. He is a Member-At-Large and Annual Congress Committee Member of the Society of Critical Care Medicine. His research interests include the appropriate use of antimicrobial agents and outcomes for serious bacterial infections. He has received numerous research awards and is a fellow of the American College of Clinical Pharmacy.